

Updates are performed locally, without any coordination with other nodes

Changes are eventually propagated across the system

